

The Platform for Southeast Asian Studies of the Oriental Institute and the Faculty of Arts, Charles University

cordially invite you to an international seminar entitled

MODERN MUSLIM IDENTITIES IN SOUTHEAST ASIA

When: 5th November 2021, 9.30 a.m. – 12.30 p.m.

Where: Faculty of Arts (Filozofická fakulta), nám. J. Palacha 2, room 215, Prague 1

9.30 Registration and morning coffee

9.45 Introductory remarks – Tomáš Petrů, Oriental Institute of the Czech Academy of Sciences (CAS) and the Faculty of Arts, Charles University

10.00 Session I – Tradition vis-à-vis Modernity in Southeast Asian Islam

“Absolute Monarchy, Cultural Protectionism and Global Citizenship in Brunei Darussalam in the 21st Century”

Dominik Müller, Institute for Near Eastern and East Asian Languages and Civilizations, Friedrich-Alexander Universität Erlangen-Nürnberg

“One among the Zeroes, A.I. In Southeast Asian Islam”

Bart Barendregt, Leiden University

11.00-11.15 Coffee Break

11.15-12.15 Session II – Transregional Connections of Southeast Asian Islam

“Divergent Models of Islamic Authority: Hadhrami Preachers in a Changing Religious Landscape in Indonesia”

Martin Slama, Institute for Social Anthropology, Austrian Academy of Sciences

“Arab Encounters in a Malay-dominated Scene”

Zoltan Pall, Institute for Social Anthropology, Austrian Academy of Sciences

12.15-12.30 Discussion and closing remarks

Free admission. No prior registration necessary.

The seminar is implemented within and funded by the STRATEGY AV21 Project.